

Ice Stupa : Artificial Glaciers of Ladakh

Author - Sonam Wangchuk, Published on - 1.11.2014

[Hi, I am Sonam Wangchuk from Ladakh, a beautiful trans-Himalayan mountain desert on the Tibetan plateau, in the extreme north of India. I am a mechanical engineer by training, but have mostly worked in education reforms in my region. This included setting up the SECMOL Alternative School \(\[www.secmol.org\]\(http://www.secmol.org\)\), well known for its innovative solutions to the region's educational and environmental problems...](#)

In January 2014 at this school

[some of our students worked with me on an interesting project that we called the Ice Stupa. Our aim was to find a solution to the water crisis facing Ladakhi farmers in the critical planting months of April and May before the natural glacial melt waters start flowing. \[Download / Read Entire Appeal\]\(#\) \[Read Vikalp Sangam Story on\]\(#\)](#)

SECMOL

[Read other stories on the Ice Stupas on India Water Portal and in Down to Earth \[See a brief\]\(#\)](#)

photo update

on activities carried out till the end of 2015

·
·
·